

The Carole Price Shanis Scholarship
Interior Design Educators Council Foundation, Inc.
Call for Applications
2010

Purpose: To provide support for the purpose of returning to school to advance your interior design education.

Amount: Up to $3000 will be available for up to two scholarships. These will be determined by February 15 and announced at the 2010 IDEC International Conference.

Eligibility: Eligible persons include graduate students, educators, and practitioners who have a degree from a recognized Interior Design program and who hold membership in a professional Interior Design organization. Previous recipients of this award are not eligible.

Submit in two separate files:

1. This completed cover sheet with contact information and proof of your membership in an interior design organization (e.g. membership number and or membership card).
2. A written description of how you intend to use this scholarship to further your education, how you will benefit, and an itemized budget with justification. Be specific, i.e., type of professional development, course names (if appropriate) and descriptions, location, cost, etc. The funds cannot be used for computers or rent. Limit to three pages, word processed, 10-point font minimum. Your name or other identifying information CANNOT appear on this written description to retain the integrity of a blind review.

Note: If any of the above is not included, the application will be rejected without review. Any inclusions other than those requested shall be eliminated from your application.

Email the above to: skirkman@interiordesign.edu (Word or PDF if possible). Questions: contact Sue Kirkman at the above address or 312-697-8030.

Due Date: Must be received by midnight on January 9, 2010. You will receive confirmation that it was received.
